RULES DISCUSSION: Accountancy – General Rules (A copy of the draft rules, used during today’s discussion, is attached.)

MacIntosh explained the purpose of the Rules Committee Work Group meetings.

R 338.5101 Definitions

Subrule (c):

MacIntosh asked the committee if they would agree to align the continuing education period with the license cycle, to be consistent with statute.

Whitmore asked what consequences this change would bring about.

MacIntosh said the license cycle and continuing education period should match up, consistent with the statute. It would also be less confusing for staff to keep track of a continuing education period that is different from the license cycle.

Balas stated that firms have already aligned their practice to the current continuing education period and license cycle and suggests leaving it as-is. Moore and Isleib agreed.

Subrule (l) :

MacIntosh suggested removing this subrule and related content in the rules related to nano-learning, since the small continuing education increments are difficult for staff to track.

Isleib shared she does not have experience with this topic but suggested keeping it.

The committee agreed to keep it as-is.

R 338. 5102 Standards of professional practice adopted by reference.

MacIntosh stated that he updated the standards to the most recent versions and costs.

The committee agreed with the language as presented.

R 338.5115 Educational requirements for the uniform CPA exam; approved educational institutions; adoption of accreditation standards by reference.

MacIntosh inquired about the possibility of revising the rule to only require accounting related courses for fulfilling the statute specified concentration in accounting requirement by dropping the additionally required business courses under the rule.

Moore asked if work experience could be used for fulfilling the 150-semester hour college course work credit under the statute. MacIntosh stated that we cannot use work experience for college course credit. Work experience is its own separate requirement under the statute.

Balas did not feel comfortable dropping the required business courses.

Isleib felt the business hours requirement could be removed because students still must satisfy the required 150 semester hours needed to become a certified CPA, and could still choose to take business courses to fulfill that 150 semester hour requirement.

Isleib proposed the possibility of including 1 or 2 of the business courses along with the accounting courses. MacIntosh said that the difficulty there would be then requiring specific business courses that up until now were only optional as far as what business courses a student could choose to take.

Isleib, Moore, and Whitmore were in favor of removing the requirement of business courses as part of the required hours to sit for the CPA Exam.

Balas was not in favor of dropping the business course requirements to sit for the CPA Exam.

R 338.5211 Renewal of license with insufficient qualifying hours allowed under certain circumstances.

MacIntosh said that this rule should be considered for rescission, as it allows licensees to complete continuing education hours outside of the continuing education period by completing penalty hours.

Moore wanted to keep this rule.

MacIntosh asked the committee to continue thinking about this rule and to consider whether it should remain in the set.

The committee agreed to move forward with the proposed changes.

ADJOURNMENT

MacIntosh stated that he will have the draft ready for the board to review at the January 30, 2025, meeting.

MacIntosh adjourned the meeting at 12:03 p.m.
